in the way they are time. Richmond frepublican powwon, the city yesterday. Without exception all agreed that it was the greatest Republican convention that ever happened or is likely again to happen.

"I am satisfied with Taft's nomination," said al. K. Lowry, delegate from the Eighth District. "He was the logical candidate, and I am convinced that he will win out next tall. Virginia stood by him loyally in every important contest."

"I voted for faft, as I had piedged myself to do, and so did every one of the Virginia stelegation who expressed a cnoice at all," said Joseph P. Said, intra District delegate, "At the same time that did not prevent me from voting with the Roosevit to research which is same time that did not prevent me from voting with the Roosevit forces whenever I thought they were the reaches that the steam roller would be put to me from voting with the Roosevit forces whenever I though they were the reaches the lines were sharply drawn between Tidewater and the rest of the State. Department Commander H. Johnson White, of Tidewater, brought up with him twenty-five delegates from Norfolk and Newport News camps, who were solid for his re-election as the head of the Virgin'a Department, of this delegation, the Hartman faction claims eight were offisers created by White last year in his official position as department commander, and represented eight votes solidly for him.

Eight Votes Elected Him.

Without these eight votes, said Mr. Hartman list night, "White could not have been re-elected. As it stands, he and his officers were te-elected to office by their own votes. This is no doubt within the letter of the constitution, but not within the spirit, we do not believe the Grand Camp will uphold any such action. The framers of the constitution certainly never intended that any men should perpetuate themselves in office by the use of steam-roller methods."

The action of the Hartman faction in refusing to vote in the election of in refusing to vote in the election of the constitution of the lattern of the constitution of the lattern of the constitution of the Hartman faction of the several railways entering the city to discuss the estimate of the several railways entering the city to discuss the estimate of the conduct in the rear of the conficual ast night for disorderly conduct in the rear of the conficual and the claim of the Hertman list night, "White could not be provided in the rear of the several railways entering the city to discuss the estimate of the noisy men, he and his officers were te-elected to office by their own votes. steam-roller methods."

The action of the Hariman fection in refusing to vote in the election of officers and refraining from taking part in the succeeding work of the convention seriously questions the legality of the whole proceedings, and makes a wide split down the centre of the veterans of the Department of Virginia. The party headed by White is eager for harmony and recognities. Virginia. The party headed by White is eager for harmony and reconciliation, and as matters stood the possibility of getting together to-day appeared very good. It is possible that the breach may be healed by a compromise this morning, and the leaders of both factions were working with that end in view last piece.

Robbed T. W. Noble Gets Long Term in Penitentiary.

George Davis, colored, was convicted yesterday morning by a jury in the Hustings Court of holding up and robing T W. Noble, employed by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, and was sentenced to eighteen years in the penitentiary. Davis's crime was regarded as unusually vicious, and in his argument before the jury Commonwealth's Attorney Folkes made a strong plea to give him the maximum penalty—death.

Mr. Noble, who is the son of T. J. Noble, Jr., manager of the Reynolds Company, was attacked by the negro on Easter Sunday ufternoon at his office, 330 South Tenth Street. He had occasion to visit the factory, and pass.
